James F. Dunne

Many seniors have fond memories of the late Superintendent of Schools, James F. Dunne, as Principal of the Capen School. Others knew him only as their Superintendent. All admired and respected him for his quiet dedication and tireless effort on behalf of the students of Dedham. In Mr. Dunne seniors found a true friend and strong ally.

Last Spring juniors applied for positions on REFLECTIONS 1970 staff. A committee of faculty and 1969 seniors chose from among those applicants the candidates who were best qualified to assume editorial posts on the basis of interest, dependability, extra-curricular activities, and scholarship.

The present Senior Class has now reached four hundred. It would be an impossibility to consult all members of the class on all decisions. Interested seniors with suggestions to offer should submit their ideas to the staff members who will see that

Mirror Goes To The Movies

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" is the title of a film with a western setting. It stars Paul Newman as Butch Cassidy and Robert Redford as the Sundance Kid.

The two late 19th century heroes of the movie are partners in crime in specializing in train robberies. Unlike real villains the men in this hilarious satire avoid hurting any of their victims. Humorous incidents, involving their friends and pursuers frequently arise.

After unnumberable robberies on the same railroad line, the railroad president becomes completely infuriated and hires a

Class of 1971 Makes Prom Plans

As in the past, most of the time and efforts of the junior officers will be concentrated on making their prom a success. The date for the event is May 22, 1970. The post prom will be held at the Sheraton Motor Inn in Lexington. Voting for the theme and planning for the decorations should be discussed by the homeroom representatives in the near future. Committees for decorations, tickets, and invitations will then be organized in order that many juniors can have a hand in the work. The officers encourage the members of their class to participate actively in the preparation of this affair when the opportunities become available. And remember, spend-thrifts, no dues, no prom!

*Dedham High School.
We spent three years here.
Three long years — or were they short years? We grew in those three years.
We got to know other people — but more important we got to know ourselves.*

People

*We got to know all different kinds of people —
and sometimes we understood them.*

But
very often

We did not understand ourselves

We discovered that learning is a part of living.

What a unique experience being so caught up in learning.

The intense pain of trying to express yourself — when a French word perfectly describes your feelings but

no one would understand it anyway.

The disappointment of discovering an entirely new concept — then reading it in your text.

*You could always find a sympathetic person —
often, suprisingly enough, it was a teacher.*

The generation gap? We thought we found it — but it wasn't really there.

*After a long week — the realization that it was Friday
inspired such audacity that last period you sat in the library without opening a book.*

At the end of sixth period you hurried for the first time all day
a grin blotting out all thoughts of tiredness.
you went to your locker and left — without returning to homeroom!

Tiredness —

everyone felt it. A term paper due on Monday, pages
to read for English, a History Test, a job
after school.
and suddenly
study hall became the most welcome sight. You opened your history book
and sank down
into a sound
sleep

But there were times when you had so much energy that you couldn't sit through a forty-five minute class—so you
clowned around,
talked, sat
back bored, or as a last resort —
asked for a pass.

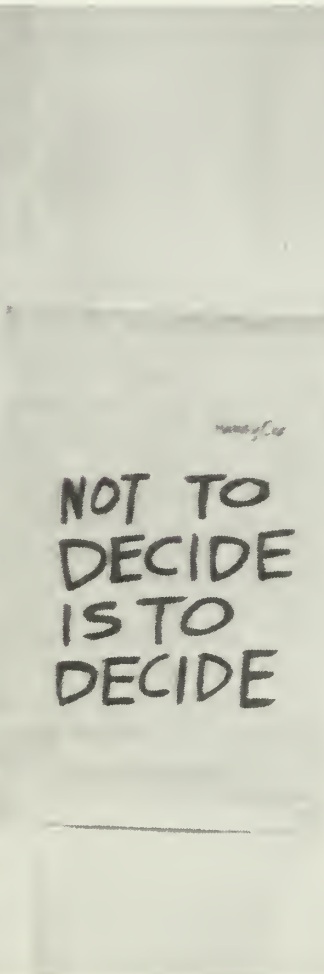

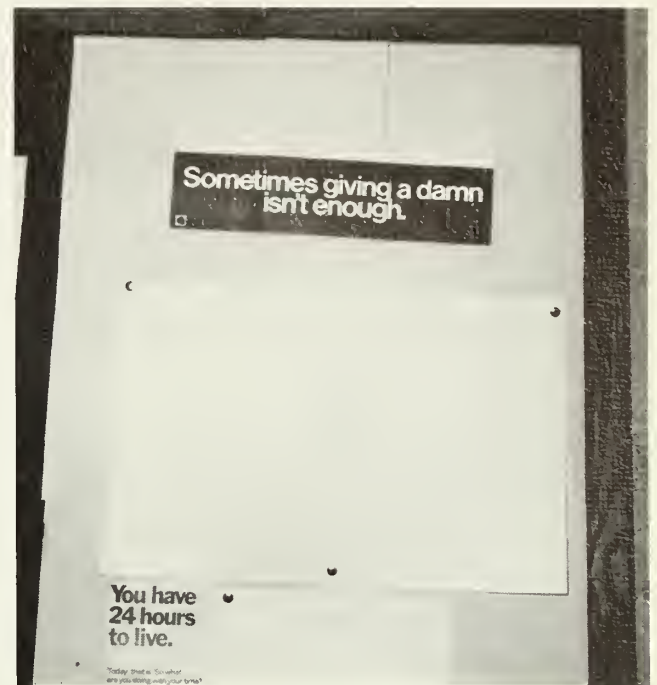

We accomplished
so much this year. We learned to work together sharing our whimsical ideas.

We had a Christmas Tree decorated with loving care.

Posters were hung in many rooms. Maybe they were supposed to inspire us.
Maybe they did.

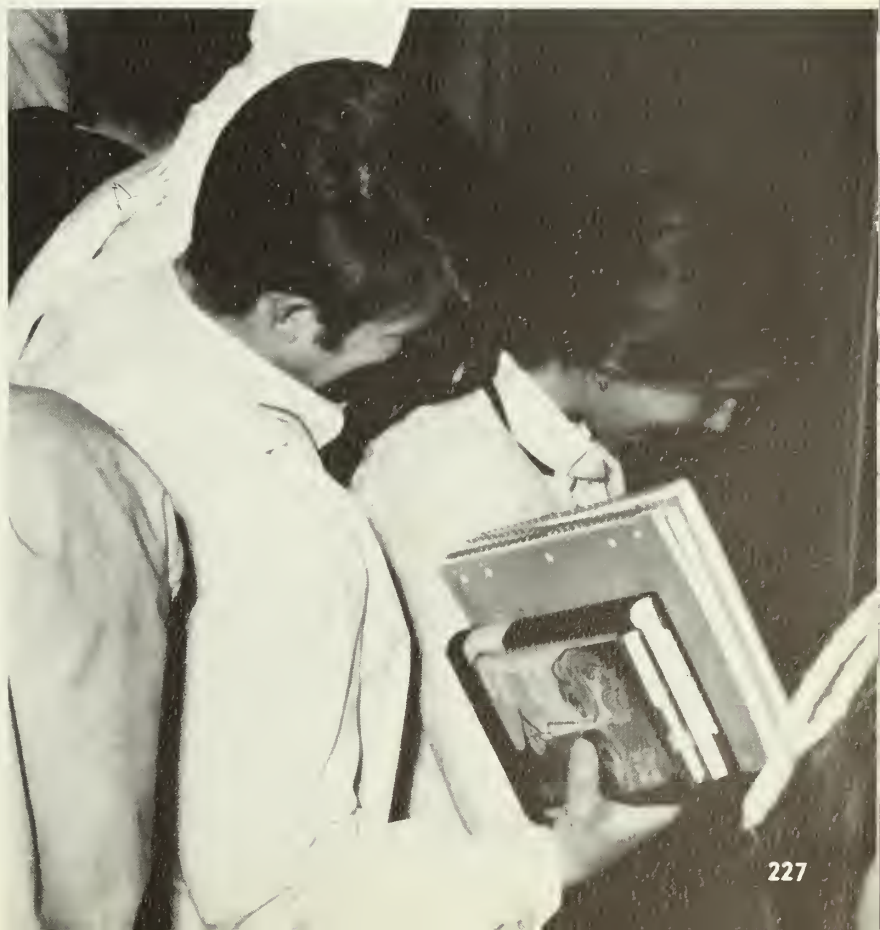

PEACE ON EARTH

We talked about peace, Biafra . . .
world affairs.

And we talked about nothing at all.

We supported our teams

Winning or losing we were still number 1
our team, our spirit,
our school

We faced reality — on the field and off.

When we were seniors we knew this was our last chance to be the victors.

What was that shaky feeling we had at the Norwood game?
This was the last . . .
yelled louder

three years is a very short time. In senior year for the first time we didn't run from the building at 2:10 but stopped to talk, to look around. We realized we had never really seen the corridors completely empty. We realized the library didn't close at 2:10. Why did we think everything stopped — abruptly — at 2:10?

FIRST AID
ROOM

We reveled in our foolishness.

*As Seniors
we didn't have to impress anyone*

But in the end we had made our impression on our society.

*Once we were so anxious to leave, but did we feel this way in June?
We did so much. We thought, and our thinking changed us.*

We acted, and our actions changed others.

And we left so much undone.
